

Care pathways for identifying hearing loss in babies

“This is an excellent way of increasing knowledge and awareness of Newborn Hearing Screening Wales and early childhood deafness”

Dr Sally Minchom,
Associate Director,
Newborn Hearing Screening Wales

Covers screening in the newborn and advice to Primary Care

Three pathways made up of a general overview, a care pathway for well babies and a care pathway for high risk babies who have been in special or intensive care

Provides information to screeners, midwives, SCBU staff, General Practitioners and Health Visitors

Gives information about the next step for babies throughout their journey through screening and surveillance

Gives information to General Practitioners and Health Visitors about hearing testing in early childhood

Gives information on babies that require early referral for hearing tests

The pathways can be accessed at <http://wales.mapofmedicine.com>
For further information visit www.mapofmedicine.com

